TORRENTS

OF RAIN DELUGED THE PRESIDENT

As He Drove Through St. Louis Streets

Received Enthusiastic Reception From Thousands—After Address Left on Steamer For Cairo.

St. Louis, Oct. 2.—In an open carriage President Roosevelt drove five miles through the streets of St. Louis this morning while the rain fell in torrents. But inclement weather did not dampen the ardor of enthusiasm of the crowd waiting to greet him. Thousands braved the elements along the line of the presidential procession and gave the executive a rousing cheer. Throughout the entire drive from the levee to the Jai Alai building in Forest Park, the president's only protection from the rain was an umbrella. At times he discarded it and arose in his carriage bowing to the right and left. Just as the Jai Alai building was reached, the rain ceased and the sun burst through the clouds, but the downpour had done its work, and the president was drenched. He did not allow his physical discomfort, however, to interfere with the carrying out of the program arranged. With water dripping from his clothing he mounted the platform on the arm of Governor Folk, and was greeted with prolonged applause.

In introducing the president, Governor Folk referred to the fact that it was Nicholas Roosevelt, a great grand uncle of the president, who had brought the steamboat into the Mississippi and the visit of President Roosevelt, he said, signalled the beginning of the work for a deep waterway on the Mississippi from the lakes to the gulf.

The president prefaced his remarks by a reference to the weather and caught the favor of the audience by saying: "I hope you will pardon me if you find my speech dry. It is the only thing about me that is." (Great laughter and applause). "Judging from my brief experience in my drive out here, I would say that in my opinion a 14 foot channel would be altogether insufficient. (Renewed laughter and applause).

At the conclusion of his address the president was again driven through the principal streets of the city, this time, under more pleasant weather conditions. Luncheon was served at the Jefferson hotel, at which 20 visiting governors of the Mississippi valley states were present. After the luncheon the president was driven to the levee and again boarded the steamer Mississippi and started on his trip down the river to Cairo, where he will arrive at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

On the voyage down to St. Louis from Keokuk, the President thoroughly enjoyed himself in company with his old rough rider friends, Seth Bullock, Governor Franz, of Oklahoma, and Commissioner McIlhenny.

The steamer Mississippi, bearing the president and his friends arrived at the Eads bridge at 8:05 this morning, and waited an hour before tying up at the foot of Olive street. Shortly afterwards, the committee, headed by Governor Folk, Mayor Wells and President Smith, of the Business Men's league, under whose auspices the president's visit was arranged, boarded the vessel and escorted the president to his carriage.

St. Mary's Dramatic Club. St. Mary's Dramatic club gave a very pleasing and entertaining amateur vaudiville and moving picture show in St. Mary's hall, last night. The hall was crowded and the audience was delighted with the entertainment, judging from the hearty applause. By request the entertainment will be repeated tonight with change of songs and pictures.

St. Mary's Dramatic club is fast gaining the reputation of being one of the best in the city and well deserves the encouragement and support accorded it.

"Wild Man From Borneo" Escapes. Hamilton, O., Oct. 2.—George Willis, a local character, was hired by a faker to act as "the Wild Man from Borneo," at $15 per, during fair week. He was put in a ten-foot pit, fitted out with walrus teeth and a brass clout, his body smeared with walnut stain and a wig of horse hair adorned his head. Willis grew tired of the job Monday afternoon and "blew." Glad in his grotesque costume he gathered a crowd. More than 20 people chased him six miles from the fair grounds, where he fell from sheer exhaustion.

MASSILLON FOOTBALL

Special to Morning News. Massillon, Oct. 2.—Cuyahoga has cancelled the game with the All Massillon team for next Sunday. In their place the Akron Tigers will play. The Akron bunch is highly respected by the local eleven and thorough preparation will be made by the team for the game. Wightman, coach of last year's Tigers, is assisting in the coaching of the team not having the time to take the team entirely in hand. Captain Coach East had all the men out tonight for a short practice followed by a blackboard practice in the new club rooms.

Captain Grinnell of the High-school team was injured in practice today but not sufficiently to keep him out of next Saturday's game with New Philadelphia High, he says. While running around the end he ran squarely into a heavy wire that had been stretched to prevent spectators from swarming on to the field. He was carried into the dressing room where it was found that his injuries were not serious.

American Heiress and Foreign Count. Newport, R. I., Oct. 2.—It was reported in Newport today that within a week the engagement of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, daughter of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, would be announced to an Austrian or Hungarian count. Efforts to confirm the report at "The Breakers," the summer home of Mrs. Vanderbilt, where she and her daughter are stopping for the late season failed, and none of the late staying cottagers knew anything of the reported engagement.

Washington, Oct. 2.—In the few days that President Roosevelt spent in Washington after his return from Oyster Bay and his departure for the west and south, it was a matter of remark among persons who saw him here that he had gained weight during his sojourn at Sagamore Hill. Just before leaving for Canton, the president in conversation with one of his friends, owned up to 210 pounds. This is ten pounds more than Mr. Roosevelt weighed late last winter and just about 30 pounds more than his avoirdupois at his accession to the presidency in 1901.
